The New Jersey Folk Festival is an annual, outdoor event held on the Douglass campus of Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey on the last Saturday of April. Founded in 1975, the event attracts approximately 15,000 attendees from New Jersey and neighboring states. In addition to the juried craft show, the festival features five music stages, a children's activities area, and two dozen food vendors.

The craft jurors look for quality crafts representing a wide variety of folk traditions. Work must be original, designed and executed by the applicants, and the finished product must reflect a high level of skill. Absolutely no "craft kits" or mass produced items will be accepted.

Consumable crafts such as jellies, soaps, honey, and other consumable food products are no longer being accepted.

HOW TO APPLY

You must include a brief written description of your media including the materials and techniques involved with your submission. If accepted, you may not change or add other items to your booth space that were not juried. If you do, you will be asked to stop selling those items and you will forfeit all fees paid.

---NEW CRAFTERS: A space fee and a non-refundable $10.00 jurying fee are to be paid by two separate checks accompanying your application. If you are rejected, the space fee will be refunded to you. No commission or percentage is taken on sales. These are your only fees.
